Painted for Sir A. Aston, and purchased at his sale.

H. DILLENS.

- 16 The Trumpeter

Carefully painted.

CARMICHAEL.

- 3-✓✓ 17 Boats Arriving—a calm

A desirable cabinet specimen.

SAMUEL WILLIAMSON (LIVERPOOL.)

- 18 Peasants, with Cattle and Sheep going to Market

A lovely summer scene, picturesque in composition, high in finish, and one of his most perfect works.

E. J. COBBETT.

3. 10 ✓✓ 19 Peasant Girl returning with sticks—a winter scene

WILLIAM DANIELS (LIVERPOOL.)

- 20 "Water Cresses"

Very elaborately finished, and agreeable in colour.

S. RAYNER.

6. 10 ✓✓ 21 Interior of Haddon Hall

A clever effect: his works in oil are rare.

pus*

J. W. OAKES.

- 29 Beach Scene, with Fishing Boats

ALEXANDER JOHNSTON.

- 30 "Love"

One of the most refined of his works; the female figure depicted with native grace, and the whole composition is of high artistic character.

30 fns

Blackdown

These birchen boughs their grateful umbrage spread
 Above a piping shepherd and his lass ;
 Whilst, from yon upland drowsy bleatings come,
 His scattered flock there crop the fragrant grass.
 Far from the crowded city's busy hum
 And strife, these rustics' days all tranquil pass :
 Music, and healthful toil, and love make up the sum.

P. F. POOLE, R.A.

- 31 The Travellers' Rest

This rather early work of the artist exhibits the well-known characteristics of the master, viz., great richness and harmony of tone, whilst the figures are humble yet true to nature, and are models which all who know his works will recognise. The heads have been most carefully studied.

35 fns

do

RICHARD ANSDELL, A.R.A.

- 32 The Sportsman and his Dogs taking their mid-day rest

32 fns

Ansdell

One of the most exquisitely finished subjects of this favourite animal painter.

33 Cattle in the Meadows—a summer afternoon

To Jus B

No picture, however large, by the artist, contains more of the elements which go to form a fine work of this class; power, effect, and execution are alike wonderful, and all in a few inches square.

WILLIAM HEMSLEY.

34 The Pet of the Village—engraved in the Illustrated London Newspot 17/2
A recent and a charming work.

Coy, beside the wicket there,
Loiters little Mary,
With azure eyes and golden hair,
Worthy of a fairy.

Little Gipsy's at her side,
Every movement marking;
At a word he grows absurd,
Running round and barking.

Whether seen at mowing time,
Harvest-home, or tillage,
She's worth a poet's sweetest rhyme,
The pet of all the village.

35 Jus

T. CRESWICK, R.A.

Dace

35 The Way through the Wood

To Jus B

The peculiar charm of this artist is his truth to nature, and in this sunny avenue is remarkably visible; the trees bend gracefully over the chequered spot, and are in their early spring leafage. A very desirable specimen in every respect.

16 Jus

J. W. OAKES.

- 36 Storm approaching, gathering the flock—a scene in North Wales

23 Jus
10 Jus

The foreground carefully made out, and the mist and coming storm given with a keen observation of natural effects.

J. P. PETTITT.

- 37 Windsor Park, with Deer

A fine picturesque rendering of true English scenery.

- 38 The Chain Pier at Brighton—morning after a storm

A wonderfully animated scene, painted with great skill both in execution and effect.

J. B. SMITH (1860.)

- 39 Lake Scene, with Cattle drinking — Cumberland

A calm day; the reflections in the water given with much delicacy, and the whole painted with nicety.

J. WYNANTS (1668.)

- 40 A Pile of Buildings on the left, Cattle with Figures in the foreground, and a distant prospect

An exquisite specimen of this greatly esteemed master of the Flemish School.

17 Jus

b.v.h. B. VANDER HELST (SIGNED.)

- 41 Landscape, with Peasants and Cattle
